Garr-eat Pirate Getaways

Hotels.com tells no tales on the best places to set anchor on the high seas

As we enter swashbuckling season, be off on shore leave with these yo ho hotels from Hotels.com™. Explore the shipwrecks teeming with marine life on the ocean floor or adventure to favourite pirate ports. These are some of the best buccaneer breaks around.

1) Jamaica

Port Royal was the famous base for notorious buccaneers from Captain Henry Morgan to John “Calico Jack” Rackham and his female crew Anne Bonny and Mary Read.

Haul up in the beautiful Negril, known for its limestone cliffs and beautiful beaches where Calico Jack was finally captured. The Tensing Pen Hotel offers boutique luxury where you can shout ahoj over the crystal-clear turquoise waters of the Caribbean.

Tensing Pen Hotel is a Loved by Guests hotel on Hotels.com, available from $163 per room, per night. For more information or to book, please visit Hotels.com.*

To shimmy closer to Port Royal, commandeer a spot in the Terra Nova All Suite Hotel in Kingston.

Terra Nova All Suite Hotel is a Loved by Guests hotel on Hotels.com, available from $269 per room, per night. For more information or to book, please visit Hotels.com.*

2) Cayman Brac, The Cayman Islands

The infamous pirate Blackbeard is said to have shivered his timbers on Cayman Brac as well as Captain Morgan himself, with pirates using the island as a haven to replenish supplies. With shipwrecks galore, the Cayman Islands are worth a plunder if you be looking for a pirate escape.

Le Soleil d'Or, West End is a luxurious property, on a private beach. Available from $462 per room, per night. For more information or to book, please visit Hotels.com.*

3) Campeche, Mexico

Campeche has a long history of protecting its charming colloquial town from swashbucklers trying to lay siege. Its cobbled streets and pastel Spanish mansions hark back to ye olde way of life and at the old port a giant wall still stands, keeping the pirates out.

Hotel Socaire is located in the heart of Campeche, a stone's throw from several cultural sites including the Cathedral and the Museum of Mayan Architecture. Available from $50 per room, per night. For more information or to book, please visit Hotels.com.*

4) Barbados, Caribbean

Home to the famous Sam Lord who tricked captains into crashing into hidden reefs to steal their riches, Barbados is the ideal place in which to buccaneer a break.

In true pirate fashion, Sea - U Guest House, will be hard to distinguish from the inside of a real-life pirate ship with its wooden panelling and shabby chic look. Those looking to find their sea-legs should grab a snorkel and investigate the array of shipwrecks that cover the ocean's floor.

Sea-U Guest House is available from $135 per room, per night. For more information, please visit Hotels.com.*

Pirate honeymooners should hit the deck at Little Arches Boutique Hotel; a haven for any pirate getaway. A treasure trove of eclectic décor and set against the white sands of Enterprise Beach, it will be hard to resist walking the plank into the crystal blue seas. Little Arches Boutique Hotel is available from $394 per room, per night. For more information, please visit Hotels.com.

5) British Virgin Islands

Heralded as supporting the 'Golden Age of Piracy' and with hidden inlets providing the perfect base in which to hide and recuperate, these islands acted as a backdrop to pirate activity in the late 18th century.

The Anegada Beach Club hotel located on Anegada is a short drive from Freebooters Point, where buried treasure from the wreck of a Spanish galleon is said to be found.

This Loved by Guests hotel is the perfect retreat for those looking for a 'Pirate Life for Me' with an abundance of luxury tents on the beach overlooking the sea. Be it laying around in hammocks or snorkelling around the region for buried treasure, this is a great base in which to embrace your inner Long John Silver and explore everything that the island has to offer.

The Anegada Beach Club hotel is available $265 per room, per night. For more information or to book, please visit Hotels.com.*

Aptly named, Gallows Point Resort is located just 15 miles from Deadman's Bay, where pirates who perished on stranger tides washed ashore. Providing the perfect backdrop for any pirate wannabee, this Loved by Guests Hotel is available from $376 per room, per night. For more information, please visit Hotels.com*

Of course if you fancy a pirate getaway in ole' Blighty, the South West is known as the stomping ground frequented by Blackbeard. He was born in Bristol, and is rumoured to have enjoyed a tippie off Plum's Point in Bath.
